Our Focus Areas

Mazars Starling Resources recognizes that sustainability means different things to different people. What is clear is that sustainability is a long term value creation lever for our clients, measured in many ways. We focus on assessing impacts, conducting performance audits, clarifying risks, developing actions and advising on opportunities for value creation (both financial and non financial) in the following areas:

- corporate sustainability, operational excellence, and CSR
- conservation program design, development and finance
- forest and marine ecosystem management
- social, environmental, and business performance advisory
- low carbon economic development analysis and advisory
- donor and philanthropy advisory

Key Sectors

- Industry (manufacturing, energy, consumer goods, natural resources)
- Public Sector (government institutions, donors and philanthropies, civil society)
- Services (investors, banking, agencies)

Mazars' Partnership Social Responsibility pledge

- Respect for the environment
- Promotion of human and cultural diversity
- Support for social entrepreneurship
